British Troops Fight Terrorists As Palestine Violence Kills Nine

JERUSALEM, (AP) -- British troops deployed Monday night through troubled areas of the Holy Land seeking to halt a wave of terrorism and violence which already has brought death to six Jews and three British soldiers and severed all of Palestine's frontier bridges.

While the search was on for Jewish gangs which allegedly destroyed the railway stations in the important port of Haifa, in the direction of the Palestine railway shops. The shops were under heavy attack and fires were raging.

A land mine exploded at Haifa bay but no damage or casualties were reported, Reuters said. Tel Aviv was placarded with posters which claimed that Hagana, illegal Jewish defence organization had destroyed 11 bridges.

Six terrorists were killed in attacks on the bridges. One British officer was killed dismounting a mine under one bridge, while two British soldiers were injured fatally in a clash between troops and Arabs at Gaza Park.

The Palestine government announced all train service between Palestine, Syria and Transjordan had been halted by the destruction of the railway bridge over Yarmouk gorge. Another span wrecked was the famous Allenby bridge over the river Jordan, chief line between Palestine and Transjordan.

Give Italy Equal Voice Settling Damage Claims

PARIS, (AP) -- The four-power foreign ministers' council Monday gave Italy an equal voice in settling war damage claims arising out of military action on Italian soil by providing for the establishment of multi-national mixed claims tribunals.

An American informant, in disclosing this action, said the council settled a number of economic issues for the projected peace treaty with Italy, but had postponed until Tuesday discussion of the knotty Italian reparations question.

The British, American, French and Russian foreign ministers also agreed on a United States proposal to settle Italian claims by Allied countries in satisfying claims by each country's nationals against Italy. The ministers adopted a clause binding Italy to renounce any claims for damages against Allied nationals arising from the war.

In discussing the procedure for settling disputed claims, State Secretary Byrnes supported a French proposal that mixed tribunals be set up consisting of one person named by Italy, one by the Allied country concerned, and a third person to be named by the first two.

Foreign Secretary Bevin, according to American sources, said Britain favored this procedure.

Britain Without Support On Policy Toward Spain

NEW YORK, (AP) -- Australia, France and Mexico Monday joined in opposition to an attempt by Britain to send the Spanish case from the United Nations security council to the general assembly without a recommendation for a diplomatic break with Madrid.

After 2 1/2 hours of debate, the council adjourned until Tuesday without a vote. The new chairman, Dr. Francisco Castillo Najera, of Mexico, said some of the delegates had another engagement that made adjournment necessary.

The session was highlighted by a personal appeal from the Australian delegate, Dr. Herbert V. Evatt, to Soviet delegate Andrei A. Gromyko to go along with the majority "in the interest of democratic principles."

Mr. Gromyko last week attacked the sub-committee recommendation for a break with Franco Spain if Generalissimo Franco still is in power in September. He said it did not go far enough.

After Australia went on record against such a step, Alexandre Parodi, French delegate, attacked the British move as a recommendation by the sub-committee of which he was a member.

Dr. Najera said he felt the sub-committee recommendation did not go far enough and would like but he would support it.

Mexico's announcement completed the expressions of the delegates. They now are lined up nine for the compromise plan, Russia extremely critical of it but not definitely committed, and Britain alone standing with its amendment.

WASHINGTON, (CP) -- Immediate settlement of the 35-day-old strike of 35,000 British Columbia loggers and millworkers faced Tuesday following new union demands which were promptly rejected by the employers.

The international woodworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.L.A.) executive council Monday night announced it would recommend immediate return of the loggers to work on the basis of the new union demands, providing two conditions were met.

(1) The federal or provincial government agree to conduct a referendum on the I.W.A. membership on a proposed "modified union maintenance clause."

(2) The employers agree to accept "the democratic decision of the membership" as expressed in a referendum.

"The I.W.A. decision settles nothing and merely prolongs the strike which could be so simply terminated by acceptance of the Sloan recommendations," said R.V. Stuart, spokesman for the operators.

Damage Reported In Millions; Buildings Flattened; City Cut Off

Fear Bodies Still In Ruins

WINDSOR, ONT., (CP) -- In the wake of Monday night's tornado, Windsor may not have full electrical power and communications for several days. The mayor said he believes searchers may be finding dead in the debris for three days.

The wing of a plane identified as part of an American army bomber fell on a house in Windsor. No other trace of the craft was reported.

Observers at Sandwich said the tornado picked up houses and carried them for considerable distances, the occupants still in some of them.

"Freight cars were tossed about like little playthings and the roof of a huge depot was ripped off," said a railroad official.

Police said automobiles were hurled against buildings by the high winds. One church was levelled and several others damaged. The roof was lifted from a theatre and hurled against an apartment building.

It was believed parts of the lower Michigan and Ontario state may have experienced death that had not been reported because of the lack of communications.

Severe electrical storms previously swept portions of western Ontario with three deaths and damage estimated at $1,000,000.

A party of Imperial Oil geologists found the body near Two Hills, said to be that of a man between 35 and 40.

Helping Overcome a Bad Habit

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

MOTHERS who have to do with a child who has developed a persistent habit of bed-wetting should learn not to scold. Admittedly, such a habit is distressing to all concerned, but chiding and punishment do no good. Indeed, encouragement and praise may succeed when all else fails.

According to Dr. Edgar S. Marks of Brooklyn, New York, the first step in the correction of this habit is to gain the child's confidence and convince him that his condition can be overcome.

Weak Kidneys

Unfortunately, many parents may tell the older child that he has weak kidneys or something else is wrong with him and so the child gets to believe that his bed-wetting cannot be cured. It is suggested that a weekly chart be kept and a gold star put on the chart for each night that the child does not wet the bed.

The parents must not scold or even comment when the child wets the bed. However, he should be praised and rewarded when he does keep dry. This difficulty of his should not be discussed before him. All those in the household should maintain an optimistic attitude.

Copyright, 1944, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

The diet should be a simple one and constipation avoided. Fluids should not be given after four or five o'clock in the afternoon. Just before going to bed, the child should empty his bladder. Since the bed-wetting occurs early in the night in most cases, the child should be awakened between 10 and 12 o'clock and taken to the toilet to empty the bladder. The bedroom should not be too cold.

Habit of Waking

If this procedure is followed, according to Dr. Marks, the child will soon get into the habit of awakening to go to the toilet whenever the need arises. Later on, he will be able to go through the night without getting up. During the treatment the child should not be scolded or reprimanded when he is awakened.

A cure should not be expected within a short period of time. The child and parents must not be discouraged because several months of treatment may be required before the condition clears up.

In some cases, the bed-wetting may be due to such diseases as diabetes. Of course, in such cases, the treatment should consist of proper care of the underlying cause.

Experts Study Soil Fertility

By Basil Dean

LONDON. In fertile Britain, where rainfall is so plentiful that soil erosion is unheard-of, agricultural experts are beginning to debate seriously the fertility of their soil. Recently a group of agricultural experts who have formed the Soil Association Ltd. held their inaugural meeting, their objective: "To organize education and research into the problems of organic and natural fertilizers, and of methods of cultivating the health of the soil."

One of the Association's guiding lights is a Wiltshire farmer, Friend Sykes, author of a recently published book called "Humus and the Farmer" in which he attacked the widespread use of artificial manures urged to turn to "Nature's methods" of animal fertilizers.

Farmer Sykes' views are strong, though they are based on his own long, experienced farming. To prove his theories, he bought a farm on Salisbury Plain in 1936. The land was bleak and the soil poor.

yet, says Sykes, within ten years it was yielding first class crops. He holds bitter views on other subjects, too. Artificial insemination he declares, "may prove to be one of the most mischievous practices that so-called scientific agriculture has ever dared play with... Sewage emptying into the sea is scandalous and abominable wastefulness. It should return to the land... Nothing is so important to man as that he should return to consumption of the whole wheat loaf. Burning straw instead of plowing it back into the soil is one of the most heinous crimes any farmer can commit."

Compulsory tillage will continue this year in Eire, to boost the nation's wheat crop.

Sciatic Pain Hasn't Bothered Me For Four Years

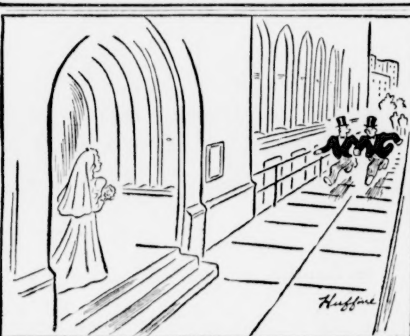

As he is getting on toward middle age, this man is especially grateful for the way in which Kruschen helped him with his sciatic pain. Here's what he says: "At one time I suffered for months with sciatic and rheumatic pains and had to use a cane when I walked. But after taking Kruschen for awhile, I could manage without the cane. That was four years ago and since then I have had no return of the complaint nor have I lost a day's work. I shall never be without Kruschen and can honestly recommend it to anyone who suffers as I did." —Mr. C. F.

Kruschen... the saline treatment... offers relief in many cases of sciatic pain, because its action is to help remove underlying causes. And one of the underlying causes of pain and illness is the accumulation of harmful waste matter in your system. Kruschen aids your organs of elimination and thereby brings about improvement. Thousands of persons bothered with sciatic and rheumatic pains have benefited by taking Kruschen; and that is a very good reason why you should try Kruschen yourself. Your nearest drug store has Kruschen Salts in two sizes: 25c. and 75c.

Plan to Develop African Desert

CAPE TOWN.—Dr. Louis Steenkamp who was a member of the expedition to the Kalahari Desert area of the Bechuanaland Protectorate last year, stated recently in Cape Town that the area had vast possibilities but the question was whether it should be opened for native or European expansion.

Dr. Steenkamp said he believed the main purpose should be for development of the natives. Although the expedition explored the Schwartz theory that storage water in Kalahari would increase the union's rainfall, it had found possibilities of utilizing vast forests to increase the woodworking industry's scope and believed that land adjoining the swamps might be successfully cultivated by irrigation, he said.

Dr. P. R. Botha, former South African trade commissioner in the United States and Canada, has been unofficially named as the next Union minister in Lisbon, Portugal. Dr. Botha was formerly financial secretary to the Union legation in Washington.

A report tabled in the house assembly revealed that the Union expenditure in 1943 amounted to £410,922,816 ($634,194,672) of which £55,500,000 were for salaries, wages, pay and allowances.

The Union's monthly contribution towards maintenance of the South African land and sea forces was £1,000,000 ($4,500,000) to the British government.

Honeymoon Delayed For Twelve Years

CHADWELL HEATH, Essex, Eng.—L. Cpl. Alfred Sheldrake and his wife spent their honeymoon together on Christmas 1943—but they had been married since 1933.

In those 12 years, they had only a few hours together. A member of the permanent army, L. Cpl. Sheldrake had four days' leave to get married and then sailed for the West Indies with his regiment. Nearly two years later he came home only stopped for only six hours at Southampton where he saw his wife there. Posted to Palestine and then to Singapore, he received his discharge papers in August, 1939, only to have his sailing cancelled when war broke out.

He was captured at Singapore and returned to England in December.

Seeks Support For Road Program

An appeal for support in the Chamber of Commerce's $5,000,000 road and cleanup program was made to members of the Kiwanis Club at their luncheon meeting in the Macdonald hotel Monday by E.T. Love, chairman of the civic interests committee of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce.

"EDMONTON," MR. LOVE said, "is showing signs of becoming a thriving city but its roads are generally in a bad condition. We have now only one-third to one-half as many miles of hard-surfaced roads as 200 other leading cities on the North American continent having about the same population."

He outlined the activities of his committee during the last three years and their efforts towards a post-war road program for Edmonton. These efforts were marked with their first big success this year, when Mayor Harry Alway announced a five-year road program of at least $5,000,000.

THE ALLOCATION for local improvements is $400,000 annually for five years. To make certain that this amount is spent each year, taxpayers should petition for local improvement work in excess of the appropriation. To this end, Mr. Love and his committee have prepared a letter which will be sent in service clubs, community leagues, women's organizations and labor councils informing them of the road program and urging them, as property owners, to petition for improvements in their own districts.

Indians to Get Surplus Goods

Some surplus stock left at Norman Wells after the completion of Exercise Muskox is to be turned over to Indians in the area it was announced by headquarters Military District No. 13 today.

FOOD, CLOTHING, cooking utensils, etc., to an estimated value of $779.79 is to be turned over to RCMP officials of the north town for distribution to the Indians. Much of the equipment and clothing was used during the exercise and the cost of transportation to Edmonton would make its removal uneconomical.

In addition to articles of clothing, pots and pans, and household goods, there are two new tread sewing machines which will be given to the Indian missions. Army rations slated to increase the number of Indian homes include many items ranging from matches to 1700 pounds of pilot biscuits.

Hair Shirts Best for Winter But Men Just Won't Wear 'Em

By Earl Banner
(Released by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

BOSTON.—The early ascetics who wore hair shirts as a form of penance for real or imagined sins may have been a bit ahead of their day.

Here it is 1946, almost the second year of the atomic age, and a scientist who doesn't make jokes says that a "hair shirt" is the most efficient form of winter clothing so far devised by man.

This particular scientist is Dr. Harwood Bedding of Harvard's famed fatigue laboratory—testing place for the protective clothing that played a major part in the winning of the Second World War by making it possible for Allied airman to fly at out-of-sight altitudes.

Dr. Bedding, 36, with moxie enough to sell just his own theories in minus 40-degree temperatures in the fatigue-laboratory cold room and high-altitude flights in Allied bombers over Europe's bomb-pocked surface, admits that he hasn't nerve enough to flaunt convention by habitually wearing the warm but lightweight clothing designed by scientists but not yet recognized by the stylists.

"We're all slaves of fashion and none more so than the members of our staff," Dr. Bedding says. "Some people think we're crazy now for the things we do in our work. What would they think if we began wearing unconventional clothing?"

"Modern winter clothing styles are about as inefficient as they can be," Dr. Bedding contends. The average New England male wears from 15 to 18 pounds of clothing out-of-doors during the winter months. This is as much or more weight than the members of Peary's north pole expedition carried on their backs. The difference is that they were warm in below-zero temperatures. We, in our concessions to the stylists, are not and cannot hope to be as long as we cling to conventional styles."

Hair-lined shirts and pants, worn without underwear, are the warmest garments so far devised by the Harvard fatigue laboratory. The hair is mohair, not the horsehair with which the ascetics of an earlier age punished themselves—but hair nevertheless.

Dr. Bedding reports that these hair shirts and pants which eliminated the necessity for underwear in cold climates were considered "too unconventional" by the war department.

Troops might object.

For that reason, our troops serving in Arctic temperatures wore less efficient clothing. The decision of the war department judges was that troops would rebel at being asked to toss away their long undies and would never wholly trust the new-fangled suits tested and proved by Harvard's fatigue-laboratory.

Short of the electrically-heated suits designed for high-altitude flying exclusively, the hair shirt-and-pants outfit was the most efficient cold-weather suit designed and tested at Harvard during the war, Dr. Bedding reports.

The complete ensemble without underwear weighed less than 15 pounds and consisted of two layers of mohair pile, back to back, covered by a light cotton wind-break. It was tried out in the Harvard cold room, and with it a man could lie still for two hours without undue discomfort in minus 40 degrees. Try that in your heavy overcoat, over-shoes, ear-muffs and felt hat sometime.

A single layer of the mohair pile worn next to the skin and covered by the light cotton wind-break would be sufficient protection against all but the most severe Boston and New York winter weather, Dr. Bedding asserts. But, he adds, who has nerve enough to wear this costume in the downtown streets of either city?

Too Loosely Worn

"Our currently stylish overcoat is one of the poorest items of winter clothing that we have to contend with," Dr. Bedding says. "It is not a good wind-break because its fabric is too loosely woven and it is far too heavy for the amount of protection it affords."

Mohair's unquestioning slavery to fashion is perhaps more blameworthy apparent in his summer clothing fashions, he believes.

"The less you wear in hot weather, the better off you are," Dr. Bedding declares. "Nakedness would be the coolest state in which to go through the dog-days. But that, of course, is out of the question. Pyjama-weight clothes would be very comfortable, but don't look for them this year or next. We're still pawns of fashion."

Britain may have women ambassadors.

Canadians attending the meeting included Dr. E. J. Tarr of Winnipeg, a governor of the Bank of Canada; Dr. Alexander Braden, and Prof. Edgar Melnick of the University of Toronto; Douglas A. The next international conference of the institute will be held in London, England, from Sept. 6-20, 1947, at which the main topics of discussion will be an analysis of Allied policy towards Japan, and a survey of the effectiveness of the United Nations Organization in dealing with trusteeship security, dependent areas and economic and social problems in the Pacific.

Louis and Conn Wind Up Training

By John D. Hamilton

GREENWOOD LAKE, N.J., June 18. (UPI)—Billy Conn and Joe Louis broke their New Jersey training camps last night and prepared to return to New York for their world heavyweight boxing championship match at Yankee Stadium Wednesday night.

EACH BOXED four rounds yesterday but their activity was largely to give some of the hundreds of out-of-town newspapermen a chance to see them and pick a winner. Conn sharpened his speed against Sammy Schipani, a fast welterweight from Pittsburgh, while Joe, who trained at Pompton Lakes, N.J., worked against his stable of outstanding sparring mates.

As ring-time approached a barrage of Conn money cut the odds against the Pittsburgher to 5 to 11-2, but it was expected that a deluge of Harlem money would be dumped into the betting mill of Wednesday to force the odds on Louis up to possibly 3 to 1.

THE GREAT Negro champion has always had tremendous support from his own people and they have been turning out in vast numbers to see him train. On Sunday Joe's last major day in the sparring ring—nearly 5,000 paid $1.20 apiece to see the Alabama-born title-holder work out and more than half were Negroes. Many were buying seats to the fight and $100 bills were flying around as they gobbled up Conn money in the vicinity. DURING A two-round session with George Fitch Joe came up with one of the little actions that has endeared him to North America. Half a dozen children—Negro and White—had climbed up on the ring apron to watch their idol. Joe was bothered by them and showed it by a flicker of his dark eye. Trainer Manny Seaman immediately began shouting, "Get down you kids! Get off the ring!"

Joe broke away from Fitch, held up a large glove and said: "It's okay Manny. Let 'em stay."

The crowd clapped enthusiastically. Louis at the end of his training looked fit and sharp.

Conn was in good mental and physical shape too. He summed it up today with: "The easy part comes now—all I have to do is meet Joe."

PROMOTER MIKE Jacobs, confident as to the financial outcome, said today: "We have over $2,000,000 in and we're a cinch to go over $2,500,000. We're pretty sure of breaking the record $2,658,660 for the second Dempsey-Tunney fight in 1927. And I'm not quitting yet on the hope of hitting $3,000,000."

Of the total Joe will get 40 per cent, or about $1,000,000, and Conn about $500,000.

Meanwhile Manhattan is filling up with the estimated 75,000 who will be buying seats at a price ranging from $10 (bleachers) to $100 (ringside). More than 700 newspapermen and radio men will cover the event.

Louis "Going Out to Nail Conn Fast" But Billy Says He'll be New Champion

By BILLY CONN

Challenger for the World's Heavyweight Championship

(Written exclusively for the International News Service and The Edmonton Bulletin. World copyright. All rights reserved. Reproduction in whole or part strictly prohibited.)

GREENWOOD LAKE, N.J., June 18. (INS)—If physical condition has anything to do with winning the heavyweight championship, I am a cinch to beat Joe Louis at the Yankee Stadium Wednesday night.

I WAS NEVER in better shape in my life. I have no way of knowing how Louis came through the training grind. He's an experienced veteran, and should know his own condition. It doesn't concern me because I'm ready for the greatest fight of my life.

When I started training back in January I weighed 186 pounds. When I weigh in at Madison Square Garden Wednesday night I'll be within a pound or two of 180. The last time Joe and I fought together I weighed 174 pounds. That was five years ago and it is only natural that I should pick up a few pounds.

I'VE PUT the added weight on my shoulders. My neck has thickened, I figure I'll be able to take a better punch than I did five years ago. It seems to me that I am faster than I was five years ago.

The only trouble I have had in training was caused by blisters. I was breaking in a new pair of boxing shoes, which I will wear Wednesday night. For protection I wore two pairs of socks. The result was a blister back of the big toe on my right foot. I had to lay off a couple of days because of it. In a sense the enforced layoff helped. As I neared the end of the training period I found that I was in danger of going stale. I had to slow down as it was, and had I worked right through I might be overtrained. As it turned out I finished the way I had planned. The only thing that is bothering is that I have to wait 48 hours before getting into the ring with Louis.

THAT'S THE WAY a fighter should feel. He should be anxious to get the gloves on. He should feel eager to get into action. I'd like to fight tonight instead of waiting. That's because I am in condition. Condition has won many fights for me. It was me the world light-heavyweight champion.

IT PROVED to be enough, only because I was in top shape. I outlasted Bettina, who proved to be more tired than I was. I moved in with a left jab, pulled away, moved in again and hooked my left to his head, and then stepping back crossed my right to his jaw. I had everything I owned on the punch. It shook him, and while he didn't go down, I knew I had won the light-heavyweight title.

That's the way it has been in most of my fights, the second one with Bettina; the two with Gus Lesnevich, now the light-heavyweight champion, and a good one, and the two with Fred Apostoli, the former middleweight king.

On condition I was able to outlast those three great fighters and beat each twice.

I didn't lose to Louis the last time because of lack of preparation. I got nailed with a right hand and then a down left and rights. Joe was in condition himself, even though he now says, and doubtless believes, that he was trained down too fine at 190-12 pounds.

OUR RESPECTIVE ages will be a factor in Wednesday night's fight. Louis and I are each five years older of course, but I'm 28 and Joe is 32. An athlete is old at 32 years. Jess Willard, who was 35 when he knocked out Jack Johnson, and Bob Fitzsimmons, who was 35 when he stopped James J. Corbett, are the only heavyweights over 30 years old to win.

Melio Bettina back in 1920. It was a very hot night and the fight took place in Madison Square Garden. The date was July 13th. Bettina is a southpaw, and his awkward left-footed stance puzzled me.

The early rounds were all in Louis's favor. He won the first six before I got started. We each had seven rounds apiece cornered out for the 15th round. I had gone to my corner at the end of the 14th dead tired. Johnny Ray, my manager, emptied a pail of water over me and I started to feel better right away. I knew I had to win the 15th and I called on everything I had left.

As to the referee, I have no choice. Neither do I have an objection. I am satisfied I will get a fair break from the man in the middle. The only fight I ever lost in New York state was to Joe Louis. And he knocked me out. The referee came easily to me. I don't mind him. I have taken my blood pressure and my pulse. Sometimes they didn't agree. That was right before me.

I BECAME MIGHTY confused when they start talking about blood pressure, with systolic and diastolic stuff. I never had any intention of hitting Conn with systolic or diastolic. I have always aimed to hit Billy with a right hand. That still goes.

If he runs away from me and gets off that stool, I'll be after him. Right on top of him from that evening.

I have been submitted to more physical examinations than ever before. I didn't mind. The doctors, both the men sent to my camp by the New York state athletic commission and my own personal doctor, Dr. Horgan, have taken my blood pressure and my pulse. Sometimes they didn't agree. That was right before me.

POMPTON LAKES, N.J., June 18. (INS)—Planning a fight as important as mine with Billy Conn next Wednesday night is something bankers think they've got their troubles. I'll trade any day.

I'm going to press Conn every second minute of this ring.

THAT'S MY DECISION. We thought of boxing Billy, of standing off and letting him peck and kick at me. But I don't want to fight like that. I would like to nail him fast this time. I would like to know if he's too much danger in lashing at him right off the bat. He can hit a bit, too, and I might run into a lot of trouble. But I don't like 15 round fights. If I can avoid them everyone knows that I can win. I will run him the way I did that Schmeling. I want Billy to be gruelling.

YOU KNOW ONE THING. I didn't cut Billy a bit the last time. I said before there's too much danger in lashing at him right off the bat. He can hit a bit, too, and I might run into a lot of trouble. But I don't like 15 round fights. If I can avoid them everyone knows that I can win. I will run him the way I did that Schmeling. I want Billy to be moment on. I know he'll stick out his left hand and hit me. I always get hit. There are some punches I have never learned to get away from. But I am confident that Billy cannot hurt me with a left jab. I'll disregard it, I'll duck it down, and try to hit him solidly as soon as possible.

My legs are in great condition. The hills out in Indiana and the long roads here have made them as springy and strong as ever. I have done, I figure, about 450 miles of roadwork and if that didn't do the trick, nothing could.

IF I LOSE THIS FIGHT, one thing is sure. It will not be because of lack of training or because of bad condition. If I lose this fight, it will be because Billy Conn is too good for me the second time around. That I don't believe.

There seems to be a lot of public worrying about what money I have and what money I owe and things like that. My money matters are my own concern, but I'd like to say that I don't owe half the huge sums I read about in the papers. My income tax problems are all right.

Under the G.I. Bill, I had six months after discharge from the army to settle my accounts with my government. That six months was up April 2. So I Strauss, lawyer for Mike Jacobs, saw the government for me and had my time for paying extended. I guess they will get their tax money sometime next Thursday.

I WILL PAY EVERY CENT I owe anyone out of the purse I will get for the fight with Billy Conn. You can count on that. It may take a while, but I'll pay everything and then count on making some good money in September. After that I'll give some thought to retiring. Right now, I like fighting too much to think of quitting.

I fully intend to keep fighting as long as I believe that I am fighting well and giving the people a fair shake for their money. I would be silly if I didn't know that the public has been sweet to me and has paid a lot of money to see me fight. They like to see me fight and I know it.

Winning the heavyweight championship from Jim Braddock nine years ago in Chicago was a great thrill for me. That was what I dreamed about from the night I fought Jack Kracken, my first professional bout. I got a great kick out of beating him the second time, and right now I get a terrific kick out of defending the championship.

I'VE DEFENDED my title 21 times and I'm proud of that. I've held the title nine years. I'm proud of that. Dempsey defended five times, the same number of times that Jack Johnson did his. My 21 times ought to stand as a record for a long time, but I think 22 will be nicer.

And I have never failed to win when I trained here at Pompton Lakes, starting with the Carrara fight way back in 1935. That gives me a good feeling.

Nursery Nook:

Baby on the way... and no nursery in the house? Here's how to fix up "private quarters" for him right in your own bedroom. Hang crisp curtains and a ruffled valance across one end of the room. Put up framed shelves to hold baby belongings (they'll hold your own knick-knacks later on)... Then, to give the whole room color excitement — use a Gold Seal Congoleum rug underfoot! It's pretty to look at — economical to buy — and the most sanitary floor imaginable. A swish of a damp cloth and it's sparkling clean — whether you've spilled the formula or dropped a wet ditty! Long lasting, too. For Gold Seal Congoleum has a wear-layer of heat-toughened paint and baked enamel equal in thickness to 8 coats of the best floor paint applied by hand. But be sure to look for the Gold Seal. Then you know you're getting real Gold Seal Congoleum Rugs. You'll be surprised how much quality you can buy for so little money.

Kettlewell, Yorkshire, England, June 18 (CP). A "killer dog" whose savage fangs have ended the lives of more than 100 sheep was the object of a widespread search yesterday on Yorkshire downs.

More than 1,000 hunters directed by walkie-talkie scoured an area 150 miles square for the shaggy killer.

SEARCHERS often have caught a glimpse of a dog slinking over the high moorland near here and at least two who took part in the hunt Sunday claimed to have fired and hit the animal. At least 118 sheep in lonely pastures between Wharfedale, Riddale and Wensleydale have been killed—15 last week-end—and farmers estimate damage at £800 ($3,500).

Latin American Trade Increases

Trade with the Latin American countries is increasing steadily, and would show spectacular gains if Canada had the goods available to meet current demands for Dominion products, Hon. James A. MacKinnon, minister of trade and commerce, stated on his arrival here Tuesday to attend the annual convention of the Canadian Junior Chamber of Commerce which opens at the Macdonald hotel Wednesday.

MR. MacKINNON will be the speaker at the convention banquet Wednesday night. He will leave for Ottawa by airplane to attend conferences between the British Wheat Mission, the Canadian Wheat Board, Dominion departmental representatives, and John Strachey, British minister of food, on a proposed long term wheat supply for Britain.

He said that South American markets look extremely hopeful and tremendous quantities could be sold but there is a short supply in the Dominion at present of lumber, paper, wheat, and other commodities.

DURING HIS TWO DAYS in Edmonton, Mr. MacKinnon will confer with municipal and provincial officials, and also with leading Liberals in the city.

BLAME BOYS FOR FIRE

German Fortress To Be Blown Up

CUXHAVEN, Germany, June 18 (AP). A senior British naval officer said yesterday the great German island fortress of Heligoland will be "blown up" within three months and be fit only for "a beautiful bird sanctuary."

Plans are to set off explosive charges totalling several hundred tons in one blast.

The officer said the island would never again be fit for human habitation. The island is about 130 acres and had 4,000 inhabitants before the war.

THE OFFICER said "Influential bird enthusiasts and ornithologists" in Britain had opposed strongly the plan to destroy the island because they feared the effect on migratory birds.

"I can only assure them that when we have finished it will be the most wonderful bird sanctuary—nothing but a pile of rocks."

Crosby Honored At Jasper Lodge

JASPER, June 18 — At a colorful ceremony on the veranda of Jasper Park Lodge recently, Bing Crosby, radio and screen star, was made an honorary member of the Edmonton Highland Games Association, one of the largest Scottish organizations in Canada.

H. CAMPBELL, chairman of the association, Edmonton, accompanied by Father J.A. MacLellan, vice-president, officiated at the ceremony, which was watched with interest by many of the crooner's friends.

"You stand on ground rendered holy by the footsteps of great explorers of the past... It was here in these surroundings that the famous Lovat Scouts (of glorified name) trained to fit themselves for action in the mountain fastnesses of Italy and Austria... Will you please accept the greatest honor within our power to bestow, honorary membership in the association," declared the chairman as he placed the Balmoral bonnet on the screen star's head. On the bonnet was pinned a brooch worn by one of the Lovat Scouts through the war, who had been trained in Jasper.

THE ADDRESS read by the chairman will be rewritten on parchment and sent to Mr. Crosby in Hollywood at a later date.

Mr. Crosby replied to Mr. Campbell and thanked him for the honor. "I am particularly grateful for this honor and have a full appreciation as to what it carries with it. Will you please thank your association for their thoughtfulness and express my appreciation," he said.
